To become a HBCB member or maintain membership, the member company must seek to operate in accordance with generally accepted international business standards, pertaining to ethics and business practices. The HBCB Board of Directors shall be fully responsible for the definition, interpretation and application of these standards. The standards include, but shall not be limited to the following;

- A HBCB member must be a legal person, registered in Bulgaria, or registered in Greece or in Cyprus, but it has a trade representation in Bulgaria, expressing so and protecting the Greek and the Cyprian economic interests.
- A HBCB member must be ready to collaborate in the implementation of the basic goals of the Council.
- A HBCB member can't develop activities and can't share or protect ideas in contradiction with the goals of the Council.
- A HBCB member or its senior management must have no pending legal actions related to crimes or corruption, unless a written explanation is submitted, which meets the satisfaction of the Board of Directors.
- A HBCB member must meet all Bulgarian legal and accounting requirements, including having audited financial statements.
- A HBCB member shall accept and actively seek to adhere to BBLF Code of Business Ethics.

We understand the HBCB membership policy and hereby confirm adherence to all criteria and requirements. Supporting information will be provided to the HBCB administration office, upon demand by the HBCB Board of Directors.
